National Coordinators

The National Coordinators are all respected programme makers, who are appointed by the International Board. Their task is to keep feeding innovative and groundbreaking programmes to INPUT and to send those programmes to an international selection where, in turn, the most fitting for the upcoming Conference is selected. National Coordinators represent INPUT to their regional constituencies.

The National Coordinators are guided and supported through their work, by the National Coordinator's Coordinator - currently Timo Erkki-Heino from Finland.

The National Coordinators (NC's) send out the "Call for Submissions" in their constituencies, and from the national submissions forward productions to the international selection - within a quota system.

Countries without NC's are represented by the International Programme Coordinator, currently Sergio Borelli.
